When the answers given by the participants for the survey prepared about the "Pilot course - PLM System Basics I-II-III" training within the scope of the E1 Multiplier event were evaluated, it was seen that the highest evaluation score was given for the sufficient preparation for the course. The intense content of the course is due to the lecturer of the course, Ruhr, Bochum University faculty member Prof. Dr. –Eng. The reason for this can be considered as the fact that Detlef GERHARD, as a world-leading lecturer in his field, explains the course in a comprehensive and understandable manner. It was observed that the participants also gave high scores regarding the efficiency of the course, informativeness and satisfaction level. The reason why the lowest score in the evaluation results was given for the duration of the training was thought to be that the entire course content was given on the same day and intensively.
